Proceedings of the Forty-Fifth Congress.—

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, D C January 22 — Senator Garland from the committee on public lands, submitted the minority report on the claim of McGorrahan, together with a bill placing all claimants to the rancho rancho on the Rincle Grande in California, in the court of claims, with the right of appeal to the supreme court. Laid on the table, the bill report to be printed.

The house bill reported from the committee on finance yesterday, to facilitate the refunding of the national debt was passed unanimously. The bill now goes to the president

Senator Davis of Illinois introduced a bill to prevent and punish counterfeiting within the United States, of notes, bonds and other securities of foreign governments. Referred.

While the senate was considering the bill's on the calendar, Senator Edmunds moved to postpone their further consideration and take up his resolution declaring valid the thirteenth, fourteenth and fifteenth amendments. Several senators objected, as Senator Blaine had given notice that he would speak to day on the naval appropriation bill. After some remarks by Senator Conkling in favor of Senator Edmunds' proposition the senate rejected it and the consideration of the naval appropriation bill was resumed, when Senator Blaine spoke in favor of his amendment submitted yesterday.

Senator Edmunds received the right to object to the amendments on the ground that they proposed new legislation He would not ask to have the point decided now.

Senator Blaine said he desired to say in advance that in the remarks he might make he did not intend to criticise any administration of the navy department. I was the duty of congress to make the reforms and correct the errors and not leave the matters to the secretary of the navy and bureau officials He spoke of the large number of officers in the navy, saying we have one officer to a little over three men By dispensing with the surplus officers and useless navy yards, we could largely reduce the expenses of the navy. There never was a navy which did not grow out of a commercial marine and in that respect we were sadly deficient. We stood to day furnishing almost as much ocean freight as any two countries of the world, and gaining nothing from it, or so little that it only served to point the moral. We paid in one year $885,000 000 in gold for freight, and he (Blaine) said to the chairman of the committee on finance, Morrill, that it would not be a impossible thing for this country to maintain specie resumption with that draft upon its resources In the last ten years we had sent and brought between $14,000,000,000 and $12,0 0 000,000 worth of products and freight, with passengers, attached thereto, and paid over $1 000 000,000. Out of that, European nations got $100 000,000, yet we continue appropriating for our navy, to protect a commerce which did not exist He asked that congress would give to a revival to commerce, some par of the sum now being wasted on a navy He believed $4,000,000 or $5,000,000 could be taken from the navy without impairing its efficiency and this $4,000,000 or $5 000,000 would turn $50,000 000 into our coffers. The government of the United States should give to any man, or company of men, aid from the treasury of the United States, if he, or they, would establish and maintain a line of steamships to any foreign port, or he might limit to any European, South American or Asiatic port. He would invite competition from all our country

Senator Blaine not having formally submitted his amendments, but having only given notice thereof, did not submit them in view of the objections made.

The amendment formally submitted by Senator Dawes, in regard to deficiencies in the quarter master's department of the marine corps was withdrawn After some discussion the bill was then read the third time and passed

Senator Blaine then introduced a bill to regulate promotions in the navy. Referred to the committee on naval affairs.

Senator Edmunds moved to take up the resolution submitted by him in regard to the constitutional amendments.

Senator Thurman moved to adjourn, which motion was agreed to.

Adjourned.

HOUSE

The senate amendments to the Indian appropriation bill were not concurred in.

A stormy debate arose in regard to the southern claim bill, in the course of which, Mr Bragg stated if the south was solid for the democratic party, simply for the purpose of getting money out of the treasury, it would be wise for northern democracy if the southern democratic went over to the republican party, and he hoped they would do so.

The house then proceeded to the consideration of the resolution in honor of the memory of the late Beverly Douglass, representative from Virginia Eulogies were pronounced by Messrs. Goode, Pollard, Hooker, Walker, Springer, Dunnell, Pedemon, Clark (Iowa), and Tucker The resolutions were adopted and the house adjourned

GENERAL NEWS.

The Cobb Poisoning Case

NEW LONDON, January 22 A woman makes a sworn statement that Chas H Cobb told her last spring under pledge of secrecy, that he was in the habit of taking solution of arsenic medicinally Application is pending for new trial for Mrs Cobb, convicted of poisoning her husband

The Reno Court Martial.

CHICAGO January 22 In the Reno inquiry Lieutenant Varnum testified that he thought Reno took the best possible position, after he left the woods with his command, but there were hardly enough men to hold it. Reno, however created a diversion in the Indian village. The Indians must have attacked Custer about the time Reno left the woods, but the witness thought the main fighting force of the village was opposing Reno He saw Custer's army moving along the bluffs down the river about the time the skirmish line was formed I was three quarters of a mile away. An hour later Col Benton joined Reno over the hill, and at about the same time the witness heard firing away down the stream, but it was a crash, and did not sound like a continuous engagement at the time He did not think it came from Custer, but thought it might be the Indians in the village When he saw the gray horses of the cavalry he thought Custer was making a detour to strike the other end of the Indian village

The witness said there was some pretty warm work about Reno's quarters. For some time it seemed as though the whole Indian village were about to advance on him. Reno did not exhibit any remarkable conduct either for bravery or coolness. There was considerable speculation among the Reno command regarding the whereabouts of Custer, and whether he was in a predicament or no. The witness at that time had no idea that Custer had been slaughtered, but believed that the Indians had driven him off, and were coming back on Reno. Had Reno gone forward with his command to assist Custer, he would have been obliged to go through the Indian village, and the witness did not believe that could have been done by either command. He did not care to answer the questions whether the conduct of Reno at this battle was such as to inspire his men with courage, but finally said there was no cowardice in it There was some little demoralization and great haste in the method of Reno's force in getting out of the woods.

A Democratic Address.

ALBANY, N Y., Jan 22.—An address prepared by the democratic caucus to the electors of the state, is being circulated in the senate and assembly to-day for the signatures of democratic members. A Dishonest Letter Carrier.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 22.—For a long time past the business men on Vine street, below Fourth, have complained of the loss of valuable letters, and efforts of the postoffice department to detect the leakage have been frustrated until to day, when by means of a decoy letter, David T Bealen, who has been a carrier on that route for six years, was caught with the marked money which had been in the decoy in his possession He was arrested and held in bail to the amount of $5,000 for examination.

Coal Miners in Council.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 22 —A convention of coal miners from the Monongahalela river mines, held at Elizabeth yesterday, resulted in a unanimous vote for three cents per bushel, and declaring a strike unless the advance was agreed to by the operators The miners have been getting 2½ cents per bushel It is thought the mine owners will not agree to the advance and a strike will follow.

Rough but Deserved Treatment.

CINCINNATI, January 22.—The Young People's Literary Society of Deerfield, near Lebanon, Ohio, has been troubled by a lot of roughs congregating in the vicinity for some weeks past Last Saturday the society stationed a guard at the door. The roughs attempted to force an entrance but the guards promptly drew knives and commenced work in earnest. One Furchild was cut seven times in the head and shoulders and carried away on a shutter, thought to be mortally wounded. The rest of the gang fled. No arrests have been made.

Fatal Accident

CINCINNATI, January 22 —While workmen were engaged this evening in tearing down the walls of P Wilson & Son's building, which burned some days ago a large portion of the south wall crumbled away suddenly, precipitating two men, Martin Jordan and Thos McGray, into the cellar, a distance of nearly 60 feet. McGraw was instantly killed and Jordan died half an hour afterwards. Both were married and leave families.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

The house committee on appropriations has finished the post office, and legislative, judicial and executive appropriation bills.

The house bill has been passed appropriating $60,000 for the transportation of coin and bullion, and $40,000 for miscellaneous expenses.

Representative Hewitt had a conference yesterday with Senator Burnside, who requested a postponement of the presentation of the army bill to the house.

Attorney General Devens has requested the solicitor general to proceed to Alabama for the purpose of defending the federal officers of that state, recently arrested by the local court at Selma.

General Sherman will soon start on a two weeks' tour of the South Atlantic states. His special object is to examine the abandoned military posts and neglected property of the United States in Florida and Alabama

The Potter committee had a long private session yesterday morning. The democrats brought up the question whether St. Martin should be called as a witness by the republicans, or be discharged by the committee. Mr Shellabarger, in behalf of Secretary Sherman, thereupon presented a letter in which, after criticising the course of the committee in not recalling St Martin on their own motion, he asked that St. Martin be re called for further cross examination on the testimony given in New Orleans and on the affidavit which he recently filed with the committee. The democrats manifested a disposition to acquiesce in the request, although and contending that the republicans ought to make St Martin their own witness The subject was however laid over until to day. The question then was whether the committee should call the witnesses in regard to the cipher telegrams in advance of the passage by the senate of the house bill making an appropriation for the expense of the investigation, the funds being wholly exhausted. This question also went over till to day.

The members asked, "Where are those dispatches that were published in the New York Tribune?" Hiscock thereupon expressed the belief that General Butler had them The general then made a statement that certain dispatches had come into his possession early last spring. He found them upon his private table, but has no idea how they came there. Those dispatches, it was said, were part of those printed in the Tribune If so, he had nothing to do with their publication. They had been furnished to the Tribune before they came into his hands During the summer they were missed for several weeks and subsequently they were found again, when he had them numbered and stamped and put in a place of safety He was willing to place them at the service of the committee In doing so, he contended that they should be printed and made public, or placed within the power of any member of the committee to make public. At the same time he protested against the whole system of investigating the dispatches, and insisted that it would be wise for both parties not to inquire into them. However, on proper receipts being given, the committee could have the dispatches that were in his possession. A short discussion followed as to whether it would be advisible to print the dispatches at once in pamphlet form, but that question also went over Adjourned

The house committee on appropriations yesterday concluded the consideration of the post office appropriation bill, and authorized Mr. Blount to report it to the house The principal feature in the bill is the proposed division of the amount to be appropriated for postal car and railway services, about $1,250 000 to be given to the former, and the remainder of the appropriation for these two branches to the latter. The legislative, executive and judicial bill was nearly completed with the exception of the proposed legislation with reference to the proposed government surveys It is proposed that all such surveys shall be consolidated under one superintendency according to the plan of the academy of sciences. The bill, however, may be amended in this respect before it is reported to the house so as to provide for a commission to determine the character and extent of the surveys from time to time. Representative Hewitt expects to report the army appropriation bill to morrow, with provisions for the reorganization and reduction which is already informally agreed upon.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL

DENVER January 21

The friends of the different railroad corporations are now working hard to give our legislators light on the railroad bill But it is now evident to the friends of the measure that it will be overwhelmingly defeated The great argument which has influence with our legislators is that the passage of such a bill will frighten capital and greatly delay the railroad development of the state At the present time three great eastern lines are competing for Colorado trade while only one line has railroad communications with Southern Colorado Of necessity the other two lines must do something to obtain a part of this southern trade If this bill fails in the legislature then they must build new railroads into Park county and San Juan But the defeat of this bill not only ensures the building of branch roads by the Atchison Topeka & Santa Fe, Kansas Pacific, and Union Pacific but it will encourage the completion of the four other roads which are already stretching their lines from the Missouri to Denver These roads will all be likely to be at the state line within the next two years The Central Branch of the Union Pacific is already built 250 miles west of Atchison and is within 150 miles of the Colorado state line One hundrd miles of road were built this year The road is owned in Boston and has unlimited capital

The Burlington & Missouri road is about 275 miles southwest of Plattsmouth Nebraska This road is also owned by Boston parties The stock is quoted at 115

The St Joe & Denver City railroad is built 230 miles west of St Joseph and is within less than 200 miles of the Colorado state line

The Kansas Central is built 100 miles west of Leavenworth and can soon be expected near the state line

All of these roads may soon be expected in Denver, and then they will be obliged to build roads out of Denver to reach various parts of the state Then may be expected an earnest fight for the various mountain passes of the state for railroad purposes Then Colorado Springs may expect to see a road put through Ute Pass The railroad development in Colorado if unchecked by hostile legislation will surpass the most sanguine hopes within the next few years and for this reason our legislators will defeat the bill

The committee to which was referred the anti liquor bill has finally agreed to substitute the New York civil damage bill instead of the one introduced by Mr. Mann. The principal reason for doing this is that it will remove all opposition to it on the ground of its unconstitutionality This bill has been carried through the various courts to the United States supreme court where it was finally approved The committee will probably do nothing with the local option bill until this bill becomes a law. Their reasons for [illegible] that the civil damage [illegible] [illegible] to the [illegible] [illegible] intemperance [illegible] found in Denver or the mining camps while the other would The bill reads as follows

AN ACT TO SUPPRESS INTEMPERANCE PAUPERISM AND CRIME.

SECTION 1 Every husband wife child parent guardian employer or other person who shall be injured in person or property or means of support by any intoxicated person or in consequence of the intoxication habitual or otherwise of any person, shall have a right of action in his or her name, against any person or persons who shall by selling or giving away intoxicating liquors have caused the intoxication in whole or in part of such person or persons and any person or persons owning or renting or permitting the occupation of any building or premises and having knowledge that intoxicating liquors are to be sold therein shall be liable severally or jointly with the person or persons selling or giving intoxicating liquors aforesaid for all damages sustained and for exemplary damages And all damages recovered by a minor under this act shall be paid either to such minor or to his or her parent guardian or next friend as the court shall direct —And the unlawful sale or giving away of intoxicating liquors shall work a forfeiture of all rights of the lessee or tenant under any lease or contract of rent upon the premises

SECTION 2 In any action arising for violation of this provision of this act any Justice of the Peace in the county where the offense is committed and shall have jurisdiction to try and determine the same providing the amount of damages claimed do not exceed three hundred dollars

Mr Phillips has amended his bill regarding sheep inspectors so that if parties shall bring sheep into the state without reporting to the sheep inspectors and shall sell the sheep immediately the said fine shall be a lien on said flock to be collected by any court of competent jurisdiction and paid into the sheep inspector s fund of the county in which such offense has been committed This will prevent any escape from the provisions of the bill

Mr Phillips has also introduced the following bill which is of considerable interest to our sheep men

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Colorado

SECTION 1 It shall be the duty of any owner or agent of thoroughbred rams or rams of any description to herd them or keep them enclosed Any owner or agent that refuses to comply with the provisions of this act shall be fined not less than twenty five dollars, nor more than one hundred dollars

SEC 2 Any fine arising from a violation of section 1 of this act shall be paid into the sheep inspector s fund of his county in which such violation occurred.

Senate bill number one virtually repealing the code will come up in the senate to morrow The bill will be supported by Senators DeFrance Rogers and Wolcott and opposed by Senators H[illegible]nes and Helm The bill is reported from the judiciary committee without any recommendation The vote in the senate will be close and with a fair chance of the defeat of the bill

Mayor France and Superintendent Kennedy are here looking after the interests of the Deaf Mute Institute

Mr McIntire s counsel have not yet moved for a new trial It is not generally supposed that the motion will be granted While general sympathy for McIntire is unabated your correspondent after more careful investigation than he was able to give last week finds that [illegible] verdict was a surprise to everyone [illegible] erally approved Very many [illegible] nize the justice of the verdict [illegible] sees its consequences [illegible] McIntire has a good many faithful strong friends in Denver

The meeting of the third house this evening was generally considered a failure Judge Bradford was sufficiently humorous for presiding officer but was too slow in his actions and had too weak a voice to keep the session from dragging Governor Stimson s address was very good though rather heavy and was generally well received

The Chinamen have been making the night and day hideous by the celebration of their New Years

THE INTER OCEAN

Weekly, $1.15, Semi-Weekly, $2.50, Daily, $10 00

THE INTER OCEAN as a political journal and confessedly at the head of the Republican press of the West, and is a reliable and reliable newspaper has a reputation second to none While it has never wavered in the support of party principles it never failed to do its full duty in critical times and has never hesitated to strike hard blows in defense of the Republican cause it has never ceased to be a good newspaper independent of all political and party considerations

With the record of seven years conscientious work and efficient service behind it as a certificate of character THE INTER OCEAN enters upon the work of a new year enters upon the work for a year the most important perhaps in its history and the most momentous in the history of the Republican party Lines are already forming for the great battle of 1880 and the country has never felt the need of staunch and able supporters of party for the sake of principle as it will in the coming year It has been the good fortune of THE INTER OCEAN to lead in the formation of public opinion and to have a tremendous following It has maintained this position as leader because of its unquestioned loyalty to the fundamental principles of the party its boldness in defending them and its fairness in discussing great political questions As THE INTER OCEAN has sounded the key note of the contests in past years Republicans will look to it as a faithful guide and leader in the coming year And they will not be disappointed The paper will stand as it always has stood, the organ of no faction or clique, battling in the front rank for the principle that have made the country what it is

THE INTER OCEAN expects to receive from enemies and opponents hard blows and to return them with interest From Republicans and friends it expects only such consideration and fairness as any political journal may claim at the hands of those interested in the success of the party and in the triumph of party principles The lines are sharply defined On the one side is the solid South aided by the Democratic party on the other the Republican party Naturally at such a time Republicans will turn to a paper able aggressive and of unquestioned loyalty All that we ask is that they judge THE INTER OCEAN by its own utterances and not by what Democratic organs and envious rivals say of it

Outside of party considerations Republicans will choose the best newspaper And in this particular THE INTER OCEAN has no superior It is in every sense of the word a national newspaper presenting home and foreign news in attractive shape and accompanying it with intelligent comment

It will be as enterprising as any of its contemporaries more accurate and more discriminating For two years its cable dispatches have been fuller and of higher character than those of any other Western journal, its Washington and foreign correspondence more readable covering more topics of special and general interest, and its home correspondence more varied and more complete All these departments will be continued with such improvements added as experience may suggest and increased facilities for collecting news allow

Independent of politics and news men want a commercial interesting and wholesome journal for the family and home They will find such a paper in THE INTER OCEAN which devotes more attention than any other political newspaper to departments prepared and conducted with the wants of the home and family in view Its departments to Agricultural Domestic Educational Scientific, and Social matters

The Curiosity Shop covering answers to all sorts of political scientific and general questions will receive more attention, even than in the years and will be a complete encyclopedia Information not accessible outside the great reference libraries of large cities In this department THE INTER OCEAN has been without a rival and realizing the importance of the department the publishers have made arrangements not only to maintain its high character, but to make an even more completely the demand of subscribers

The Home Department has within the past year assumed a new character and a new importance It is the organ of THE INTER OCEAN policy of fostering home interests and while it is unique in its freshness and its plan it is unequaled in its interest and in the amount of suggestive and practical information on home topics

The Agricultural Department will be in charge of one of the most experienced agricultural editors in the west and will give each week timely hints suggestions and discussions of practical interest

The Veterinary Department has become a familiar authority among horsemen and are published from week to week in many of the Farm and Stock Journals of the country All questions of subscribers as to the treatment of stock are answered without charge by a distinguished and experienced specialist This department will be maintained at its present high standard

The Woman s Kingdom devoted to woman s interests and work, will be continued in the generous and conservative spirit that has made it so popular

The Commercial Department has had a reputation for reliability and completeness all its own It will remain in charge of the same editor and will be made up with the wants of the readers in view

In Fiction THE INTER OCEAN will present a serial by a popular western author, covering ground in the west not touched upon hitherto by writers of fiction, and replete with incident and adventure In short stories sketches, and general literary miscellany THE INTER OCEAN will pander to no low taste, but will give the best

In these times of depression and scarcity of money, people will turn to the paper that is the cheapest To meet this demand the price of The Inter Ocean has been reduced $1 15 for the Weekly $2 50 for the Semi Weekly, and $10 for the Daily In short the Inter Ocean will be a better paper than ever before and will be furnished for less money

Sample copies sent free All communications should be addressed

OVER THE BANNISTERS

Over the bannisters bends a face
Darling, sweet and beguiling
Somebody stands in careless grace
And watches the picture smiling

The light burns dim in the hall below
Nobody sees her standing
Saying Good night again soft and slow
Half way up to the landing

Nobody, only the eyes of brown,
Tender and full of meaning
That smile on the fairest face in town
Over the bannister leaning

Tired and sleepy with drooping head
I wonder why she lingers,
Now when the good nights all are said
Why somebody holds her fingers

Holds her fingers and draws her down
Suddenly growing bolder
Till her loose hair drops its masses brown
Like a mantle over his shoulder

Over the bannisters soft hands fair
Brush his cheek like a feather
Bright brown tresses and dusky hair
Meet and mingle together

There's a question asked there's a swift caress
She has flown like a bird from the hallway
But over the bannisters drops a Yes
That shall brighten the world for him alway

The Little Music King

In the year 1761 anyone looking into the sitting room of the chapel master of Saltzburgh might have seen a little figure bent over a table busily scratching away with pen and ink The childish hand hardly knew how to hold the pen but hurried along with marks and dots and strange looking characters smeared with ink and now and then blackened with a huge blot as the pen dashed from ink to paper with trembling eagerness The door opened and the chapel master entered with a friend but the little curly head did not stir

' What are you doing my son

'I am composing a concerto for the harpsichord papa I have nearly finished the first part

Let me see

'No please I have not yet finished

The father took the paper however and showed it to his friend They both laughed heartily at the scrawl but on looking more attentively the chapel master said

"See it is really composed by rule but tis too difficult, no one could play it "

' It must be well studied before it is played said the boy "See, this is the way it begins And running to the harpsichord, he succeeded in playing enough of it to show what his idea was

It was indeed a musical composition correctly composed, but containing such great difficulties that an able musician would have found it impossible to execute it on the harpsichord.

The chapel-master was Leopold Mozart, and the little composer, only five years old, was Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart after ward so celebrated in the musical world

Two years before he had stood listening at the fireside while his papa gave a music lesson to his sister Anna

'Thou teachest Nunneri papa teach me too

But thou art a baby Wolferl wait my little man

But when the lesson was over and papa gone the little fellow went to the harpsichord, and standing on tiptoe groped among the keys with his baby fingers stretched wide apart till he found and played a perfect chord Papa's music ear caught the sound and he rushed back into the room to find that his baby had indeed all alone, found his way into the beautiful tone world

After that, music lessons were for him too, and he was never far away when Nunneri was at the harpsichord but, perched on his fathers knee followed every movement and tone and often played the lesson after her from memory

The next year the family removed to Munich and the two children were presented at the court and played before Francis I, the emperor to the wonder and delight of all who heard them

Before Wolfgang was eight years old and Anna twelve they had performed at the courts of Vienna Paris Munich and London At Vienna they saw and played with the little Marie Antoinette and Wolfgang shocked the fine court ladies by jumping into the lap of the empress for a kiss He could play the works of Bach Handel and other masters and in England composed six sonatas which he dedicated to the queen

Returning to France they traveled about in that country and in Holland and Wolfgang played on the organs of most of the churches and monasteries

One evening, being caught in a thunder storm they took shelter in a monastery The monks were at supper and did not know of their guests arrival But soon wonderful music began to steal into the hall from the chapel sometimes sweet and sad then wild and stormy now a single voice with pleading tones again a great chorus of response now the rolling thunder and the booming of the wind, and as these died away a soft clear sunny strain telling that the storm was over The fathers were in great affright one and another stole into the dark chapel to listen and they counted themselves over and over again to be sure they were all there But at last a light was brought the strangers were discovered and Wolfgang greatly enjoyed their amazement terror and delight They could not believe that it was he who had played such music so far beyond what even Brother Ambrose played their fine musician They thought it a spell an enchantment a holy charm a miracle And when at last convinced he was a true mortal boy they lavished the kindest hospitality on the Mozarts and bade them Godspeed on the morrow with many a blessing

At the consecration of a church belonging to the Orphans Home in Vienna Mozart composed the music for the occasion and conducted it, although only twelve years of age At thirteen he went to Rome with his father and there in the Sistine Chapel below the grand painting of The Last Judgment, which Michael Angelo had painted three hundred years before he heard the wonderful music of "The Miserere

This is only performed in Holy Week by the popes choir and no copy of it has ever been allowed to be made, and any one making it would be excommunicated. But this child's ear caught it and on his return from the chapel he wrote it out the music correctly. He could also sing it perfectly. That which is ... him the musical wonder of the ... —Emily Noyes in St Nicholas

NO RIVALS TO COMPARE IT WITH

The Weekly and Semi Weekly Tribune are now entirely unlike the corresponding issues from any other daily office in New York—wholly different in form and appearance with a large type and only comparable to the three and four dollar religious or literary journals. The price however remains so far below theirs as to defy competition and the premiums are more valuable and substantial than have ever been offered by other newspapers

Women's Curiosity

MARK TAILEY

If you want a girl to keep you constantly in remembrance all you have to do is to let her know that you wish to ascertain something about her from a mutual friend Won t she smile sweetly and say Oh do tell me what you wanted to know Of course you don t tell her and she gets all the more curious and calls you a hateful monster a real mean man and other pet names We are terribly nervous in the society of pretty little coquettes and they invariably ask us to do things on purpose to show our awkwardness They generally ask you to light a lamp which is about seven feet off Of course one does not like to prove his shortness of stature, so he stands on tip toe bursts about thirteen buttons and finally has to stand on a chair take the shade off and fall plum down much to the delight of the bewitching little brunette and her sister who stuffed handkerchiefs down their throats under the pretense of a disastrous ear ache Four weeks ago we walked home from Sunday school with her had a good time and was then asked if we would kindly take a note to Frank Frank of course is a rival a new rival in fact, who in our absence takes her to the opera house and church socials Frank is terribly artful He gets us to play on the piano and then he spoons at the other end of the room while we are squalling out some operatic selection He takes more time to put on his overshoes than any man I know His feet are not so large either I never could make out what help a girl is to a man under the circumstances But we are so innocent and cannot vie with these men who drive buggies to G Glen instead of going in a bus with the others We intend to stick to journalism save enough money to drive a sixteen horse team and then! Frank! then look out for the consequences

A Communication

[illegible] to [illegible] City [illegible] first we should [illegible] the publication of a statement of the facts

[illegible] last summer an effort was made to establish a Sabbath school In times past a Methodist school had been kept up but it had died for lack of support so it was thought a union one might be sustained there being members of different denominations who felt interested in having a Sabbath school there being at the time no regular religious services in town Accordingly the church building was secured from the proper authorities the citizens in town contributing to buy glass and curtains for the windows Those interested in the movement cleaned the house and put it in order and sometime in August The Colorado City Sabbath school was organized Mr Eaton a Methodist minister living in town, assisting as moderator at the first meeting He was asked to be superintendent of the school but declined on the plea of poor health The officers and teachers elected were selected from the different denominations represented in town as nearly as possible

The school though small in numbers at first increased until it numbered over fifty members The superintendent leaving town it was carried on by the assistant superintendent who as an act of courtesy allowed Mr Eaton to take charge when present, and he gradually assumed the entire control He was asked to bring the election of a superintendent before the school to fill the vacancy that had occurred sometime previous but his reply was That is my business I will appoint who I choose and remove who I please

This rather arbitrary answer however caused no disturbance although some wondered how he had acquired such power and there would probably have been none to day but that when called upon for the key that the church might be put in order for Sunday school the 29th of December Mr Eaton positively refused it, saying that he would not be well enough to attend and that the assistant superintendent having never been confirmed by conference there was no one qualified to take charge of the school, and therefore there would be none that day

This seemed very strange What had the Methodist conference to do with confirming the assistant superintendent of an union Sabbath school? and why could not that unconfirmed officer act as well upon the 29th of December as in times past before Mr Eaton had taken its charge upon himself? He was not superintendent what right had he to thus summarily lock the door and refuse the school to meet because of his own poor health?

The answer to this is that he was pastor in charge in charge of what pastor There is no Methodist organization here) and that gave him a right to assume the control of the Sunday school

Well, if he was pastor in charge he was not surely in charge of a union Sabbath school unless elected by that body as superintendent

But he persists that the school could not be a union one as the discipline made it his duty to establish a M E S S if he could obtain ten pupils

Surely no one was averse to a M E Sunday school There was but one hour in the day occupied by the Colorado City S S surely as pastor in charge he could organize another and not conflict with the one in progress

But, urged Mr Eaton the present Sabbath school is a Methodist one for a union school could not be organized by a Methodist minister or be held in a Methodist church building

There seeming to be such a misunderstanding it was determined to lay the matter before the school on the next Sabbath January 5th and by vote decide whether the organization was a Methodist or union one That is what it was generally supposed to be by the members of the school That Sunday Mr Eaton s health kept him at home but a gentleman whom Mr E appointed that day as superintendent refused to allow the matter to be brought before the school or any vote taken

The assistant superintendent then announced that The Colorado City Sunday school would meet the next Sabbath at the public school house

Those favoring a union school convened there according to appointment while others favoring a Methodist organization met at the church the same hour

Now in order that everything may be fully understood we will state that the Sabbath school had had a Christmas tree and money was contributed by the citizens generally in town to purchase gifts for all the little children in the place Over twenty dollars was raised but only a portion of this was used to buy presents about one fifth was reserved by Mr Eaton from this fund, he saying that his being pastor in charge made him chairman of all committees and as such he had a right to appropriate the money contributed for the Christmas tree as he chose That misappropriated money he took to buy Quarterlies for the Sabbath school without the knowledge or consent of the donors

This having been done common justice would and [illegible] that the Union Sabbath school should have its proportion of those quarterlies, as well as its share of lesson leaves papers tickets etc which the Sunday school had purchased previous to the difficulty before related but Mr [illegible] and refuses [illegible]

[illegible] City Sunday school is still called a second [illegible] money in the papers leaves [illegible] which it once contributed [illegible] has no comments to make none are needed We have had the name of being quarrelsome here in Colorado City because we will not all submit to the recognized authority of one man but the people will we have no doubt after understanding the facts in the case do us

There resides on Horse creek, about a day s ride from this city a little boy named Thomas Mills who can justly lay claim to being the champion hunter of the United States He is now about fourteen years of age but he was equally proficient as a deer stalker and marksman when he was eleven years old, when he killed three antelope at one shot near his father s ranch on Horse ranch on Horse creek Last week he accompanied his father Mr B A Mills upon a three days hunt down Lumpkin creek They pitched their tent about twenty miles south of the North Platte, and killed seventeen deer within three miles of camp They loaded up the spoils of the hunt and brought it to this city The seventeen deer weighed over nine hundred pounds and were marketed at five cents per pound

Little Tommy Mills has killed one hundred and fourteen head of deer during the past four months He thinks nothing of going out with his brother to take care of the wagon and killing four or five fat bucks is a day s work His father states that he has known Tommy to kill two or three antelope in one day with an old shot gun and coarse buckshot Young Mills was born in DeKalb county in North Missouri but has lived in Wyoming five or six years growing up with the county—so to speak He is destined to make one of the best frontiersmen in the west and could safely challenge Bogardus or Cummings to a test of marksmanship Wyoming has reason to feel proud of its young hunter on Horse creek Cheyenne Sun

PROPRIETORS

REV JOSEPH ADAMS MRS J A D ADAMS, Homœopathic Physician, and MR G K HARTENSTEIN, Attorney at Law

The Springs are situated at the mouth of Cottonwood Cañon, in a most beautiful country, salubrious atmosphere surrounded by scenery of the most gorgeous description, being in the very heart of the grand range of the Rocky Mountains Mount Yale being immediately to the north and Princeton, south, while the crystal waters of the Cottonwood river (abundant with trout) twist turn, leap, and plunge, into the Arkansas about six miles from the Hot Springs

The medicinal virtues of these springs have not been fully tested but after an experience of five years they have been found to be a specific for catarrh rheumatism and leaded persons, also highly beneficial for sore eyes indigestion, dyspepsia, and all scrofulous affections The above proprietors have only recently purchased these springs, and at present can only accommodate about a dozen persons We are now busy in erecting a building which will enable us to entertain about fifty patients and hope to be ready in three months from date

A very comfortable bath house has just been completed adjoining the house, so that the most delicate can now bathe without exposure to cold
